AUGUST 2021 ELECTION EDITION

The slate of nominees for the DGS Executive Committee (ExCom) is herein published below, in this August newsletter, in accordance with the Bylaws of the Society. Unfortunately, the ExCom was unable to recruit more than one candidate for all positions, so we are imploring the DGS membership to step up and recruit qualified members to run for office. The Bylaws require two candidates per position, except for Editor. Prior to September 15, any additional nominations in writing, signed by at least 20 active members in good standing and accompanied by written consent of the candidate, may be submitted to the President. Send you nominations via email to office@denvergeo.org. Other than Editor, the positions are not time consuming, generally taking only a few hours per month. The reward is meeting other DGS members for the first time and renewing old friendships while doing good for the local geophysical community.

Some may not believe that there is a thriving geophysical community in Denver; there is, so get involved and you will experience community.
